

High-Growth Media Sales Position

We're looking for a self-motivated, dynamic individual to join our sales team at Courier Publications, which includes online sales for VillageSoup, social media, and our three newspapers (Courier-Gazette, Camden Herald, and Republican Journal).

We're especially interested in candidates that are highly personable (aka, you like people and they like you), adaptable (aka, you're willing to learn and can bounce back from the occasional "no"), and know how to follow-through (aka, you can manage your workflow and provide good customer service). Sales experience is helpful but not required if you have the right qualities. We will tailor the position to match your strengths.

This full-time position has a competitive compensation package with a mix of base salary and commission. Earning potential is unlimited. Includes health insurance, vacation, 401k, etc.

Please send a letter introducing yourself and why you feel you'd make a good salesperson along with your work history to:

Sales Dept., c/o Courier Publications, 91 Camden Street, Suite 403, Rockland, ME 04841.

Or email: sales@VillageSoup.com
